TYPICAL TIME TO COMPLETION: 12 months	TYPICAL TIME TO COMPLETION: 18 – 24 months	TYPICAL TIME TO COMPLETION: 18 months – 4 years*	TYPICAL TIME TO COMPLETION: 2 – 3 years (with existing bachelor's degree)
You like the idea of being a nurse, but you're not quite convinced it's your calling. The good news is that in just one year, you can enter the field and start testing the waters as a licensed practical nurse (LPN). If you decide nursing is indeed your destiny, you can always advance your education while still earning your paycheck.	You know becoming a registered nurse (RN) is right for you and that the demand for RNs is real. This is precisely why you want to qualify yourself to reap the rewards as soon as possible. You're aware of the added benefits of earning your BSN, but you'd rather build on your education while you're already working in the field.	You want to become a registered nurse (RN) and nothing is going to stand in your way. You're willing to invest your time and energy toward a formal education—and you're up for the challenge. Your commitment to your career will make you an attractive candidate for competitive positions and promotions.	You're a go-getter who is committed to climbing the ladder in the nursing world. Your desire and dedication will qualify you for career advancement opportunities, either in management or esteemed specialties. You'll need work experience for most of these options, but knowing your end goal will help keep you motivated along the way.
FUTURE OPTIONS: Enroll in an LPN to RN program to earn your ADN and become a registered nurse (RN).	FUTURE OPTIONS: Enroll in an RN to BSN online program to qualify yourself for more advancement opportunities.	FUTURE OPTIONS: Earn your MSN to become a nurse educator, nurse administrator or nurse leader, or choose to continue on and become a nurse practitioner.	FUTURE OPTIONS: Become a Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) to influence public health policy, conduct research on modern medical issues or even start your own practice. *Rasmussen College does not offer a Master of Science or Doctor of Nursing Practice program.

For information on our graduation rates, median graduate debt levels and other student investment disclosure information, visit rasmussen.edu/310

*Completion time is dependent on transfer credits accepted and courses completed each term.

†Some Accelerated BSN programs allow bachelor's degree holders to finish in as few as 18 months.
